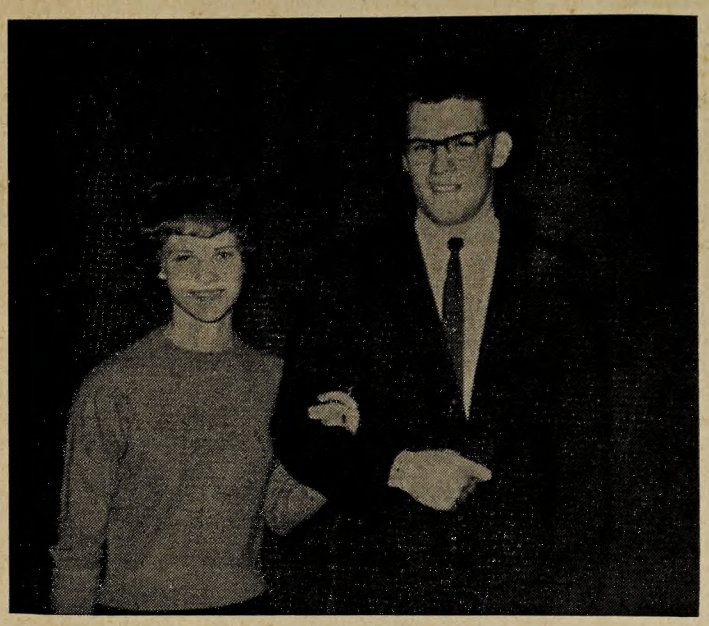
Hex Of 'Winter Magic' Brings No Snow



QUEEN BARBARA Matthias and King Harold Shudlick, both juniors, are reigning over the festive "Winter Magic" held at Wartburg this weekend.

By Karyl Ehlers

Despite the lack of co-operation from the weather man, "Winter Magic" is successfully progressing as planned.

Tonight, the climax will come as the fighting Knights play the Upper Iowa Peacocks in conference basketball competition.

The informal, come-one, come-all dance, "Northern Lights", featuring the Ravons of Mason City, will follow the game at 9:30 until 11:45.

"It should be stressed that all students are welcome to attend, not just the date set," states Bill Hamm, sophomore, general chairman of week-end activities. There will be no extension of girl's hours.

Thursday night's pep rally opened week-end activities with a bang. Good attendance and participation killed any apathetic attitudes that may have been creeping up on the campus.

The program began with various cheers, both old and new and the "Fight Song," led by the cheerleaders.

A take-off of this afternoon's wrestling meet starred sophomores Linda Stull and Jack Wendt. Junior Dale Fridley and Art Ruppell, sophomore, also participated.

Playing "Basketball" for the Black Peacocks were "Never-Say-Die Neesen," "Ballerina Belita," "Clumpin Kluiter," "Mighty Murph" and "Amazon Annie," coached by Miss Ruth Meyer of the P.E. Department.

Fighting Knights consisted of "Chew-a-Cud Cameron" played by John Kurtt, "Bouncing Bunny Buenning" enacted by Fred Jaspers, "Slinky Slick Shudlick" played by Earnest Oppermann, "Roadrunner Ridout" by Dave Olson and the Rev. Waldemar Gies performed for "Mighty Midget Medlang." All are faculty members.

Mrs. Fred Jaspers and Mrs. John Kurtt were the coaches.

Senior Dick Ridout, representing the true basketball Knights, and Senior Bernie Masker representing the wrestlers, spoke to the audience.

The six finalists for king and queen were juniors Janice Howard, Barbara Matthias, Donna Meyer, Harold Shudlick, Dave Hutson and Dave Zimmerman.

Barb Matthias and Harold Shudlick were crowned king and queen of "Winter Magic" by Dean Earnest Oppermann immediately preceeding "Snowflake Variety" Friday evening.

Queen Barb was presented with a bouquet of roses and a gold charm bracelet commemorating the event. Her attendants were presented with corsages.

King Harold was given a rose boutonniere and an engraved key chain. His attendants were presented with carnation boutonnieres.

"Snowflake Variety" proved to be a hit. The program was narrated by junior Dave Hutson. Probably the most talked about performance was given by the "Birdles," Wartburg's version of the hair-cut hatin' Englishmen.

The "Birdles" was composed of Rich Turk, freshman, Lowell Weile, sophomore, Jerry Meister, freshman, and Ned Vaughn, freshman.

Art Alt, freshman, and Janie Knoecki, sophomore, sang a vocal duet, and a vocal trio was presented by juniors Bev Stendel, Sharon Hampton , and Lora Froehlich.

Instrumental solos were presented by Judy Maxwell, freshman, on piano, John Fitzgerald, freshman, on organ, and Bill Fulcher, senior, on accordian.

Judy Gannon, freshman, gave a humorous monologue.

A show "Who Was That Lady," an innovation for our winter holiday was also well attended.

The Women's Judiciary Council provided a Penny Night to give an extra 60 minutes for special activities—not an innovation at Wartburg!

This afternoon, the Wartburg matmen meet the Luther Norse in wrestling competition in Knight's Gym. Tonight is the battle with Upper Iowa in basketball.

PLU Site For Conf.

"Church College Community — Why?" is the theme of the 1964 ALC student conference to be held next Nov. 26-28 at Pacific Lutheran University in Tacoma, Wash.

The purpose of the two and a half day conference is to define the vocation of the ALC student college community in our contemporary society. It is hoped that Dr. George Forrell of Iowa City and Dr. J. Riecke of Seattle, Wash., will speak to the conference.

A leader of CORE, the Congress on Racial Equality campus group, will also speak. Discussion groups, an important part of the format, will be held after each of the major speeches.

Excitement mounted last Friday night at Augsburg College, Minn., when the student body presidents and the coordinators from each of the fourteen ALC colleges accepted the bid from PLU for the site of the conference.

PLU's Mike McIntyre, SBP, won over bids from Augsburg College and Wartburg Seminary. This was largly due to PLU's willingness to give a large amount of financial aid to the conference.

This aid will be used for traveling and boarding expenses. In addition, increased support from the Youth Office and usual support from each of the schools make possible the twenty-five dollar tag for the entire conference.

While the student body presidents met on Saturday to share common concerns, the coordinators planned the purpose, theme, speakers, and format of the conference.

Nelson Meyer, SBP, and junior Donna Meyer, campus coordinator, represented Wartburg last weekend. Anyone interested in attending the November conference should contact Donna Meyer. Delegation is limited to six.

Schmidt To Perform

Dr. Warren Schmidt, Music Department, will be featured in a faculty recital tomorrow, at 8 p.m. The recital will be in the choral room of the Fine Arts Center.

Dr. Schmidt will play a number of works by J. S. Bach. Included in the program are "Prelude, E-flat Major (III,1)," "Nun Komm' der Heiden Heiland (VII, 46)," "Nun Danket Alle Gott (VII, 43)" and "Prelude and Fugue, C-minor (III, 6)."

Also, "Trio Sonata No. 3, D-minor (I, 3)," "Adagio e dolce," "Vivace" and "Fugue, E-flat Major (III, 1)."

Jayne Christensen, DeWitt, will also present her senior recital tomorrow. Hers will be held at 2 p.m. in the Chapel-auditorium.

Included in Miss Christensen's program are "Sonata in B Flat, L. 396," "Sonata in C Minor, L. 499," both by Scarlatti. Also, "Sonata in B Flat," (posth.) by Schubert, Coplan's "Piano Sonata," and Ravel's "Alborado de Gracioso."

Junior recitals will be given Wednesday by Grace Hemingson, Clarksville; Mary Ann Stille, Nashua; Sylvia Schumacher, Ashley, N.D.; and George Curtis, Waverly.

Convo To Stress "Authority"

Convocation again this week will stress the theme, "Sources of Religious Authority."

Tuesday, Dr. Allan Pfnister will speak on the topic "Strain and Stress in Higher Education." Dr. Pfnister is Dean of Wittenberg University, Springfield, Ohio, and is also consultant for Wartburg's curriculum study project.

"The Basis for Process Theology," with an emphasis on experience as important in the role of authority, will be the feature on Thursday.

Dr. Frank Gardner of the Divinity School at Drake University, Des Moines, will be guest speaker.

Jan Howard Chosen Queen

Her court consisted of juniors Barb Bose and Rhonda Ludvigson. Barb is an English major in secondary education from Dumas, Tex. Rhonda, from Holstein, is majoring in elementary education.

Gill Chooses Members For SEW Play, R.U.R.

R.U.R. by Karel Capek will be presented during Spiritual Emphasis Week, March 12, 13 and 14, as announced by John Gill, director.

The play takes place several decades in the future on an unknown island which is the location of the factory of Rossum's Universal Robots. The factory had already turned out millions of living automats which are trained as workingmen.

When Helena Glory, played by senior Delma Froidcoer, comes to investigate the plant for the Humanitarian League, her heart is captured by Harry Domin, plant manager, who is portrayed by Allen Lyndrup, freshman.

Due to the desire of Helena to have the robots more like human beings, Dr. Gall, played by junior Bernd Samland, is engaged to change the formula used in robot production. The remainder of the story is taken up with a world wide revolt of the robots which is due to the formula change.

In supporting roles are seniors Nancy Keel as Hallemeir and Al Sandau as Alquist, and junior David Kildahl as Busman. Also in the cast are freshman James Ludwig, Fabry; Mike Bradshaw, Marius; sophomores Elizabeth Bomhoff, Sulla; Norma Gray, Helena the robotess; juniors Kathryn Becker, Nana; and Bob Bone, Radius.

EDITORIAL

Wise Choice Essential

Within a little over a month, student body elections will begin. Feelings will probably be tense during that last week.

Perhaps some of the things that should be said, should be said now, before candidates are known and before my personal choice is known.

In campaigning, let's remember, "only ground is lost through mudslinging."

Mudslinging is a term that is often misunderstood. There is a difference between pointing out facts and slinging mud. Campaigners, make certain you are giving only correct facts when building up your choice. It is better to tell good points about your candidate than bad points about the opposition.

For the student who waits until he hears the platforms, I might say that often many of these items are never carried out. Candidates should be judged on past experience, accomplishments, moral character, tact, ability to get along with other people and leadership qualities. Of course, ambitions have some importance.

Remember, as our chosen leader, the president of the Wartburg Student Body is not only a representative, but a symbol of our school. Caliber of our students is judged by the appearance and action of our Student Body President.

He often represents us in the conference, among other Lutheran colleges and nationally. He is compared to, with and by the student body presidents from all over at these conventions.

He must be willing to sacrifice his time occasionally from studies and other extra-curricular activities in order to carry out the many duties he must perform as Student Body President.

Election time is a time to throw away petty personal differences and vote for the person who is capable of doing the better job.

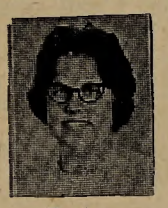
Perhaps it is worth it that feelings run high over a campaign and elections for student government. In turn let careful, wise selection plus enthusiams be your guide in the future when choosing your national president.

BECKER'S BANTER

There's No Business Like Snow Business

By Kathy Becker

There must be many disappointed students on campus this weekend. Who ever heard of a Snow Weekend without snow! Wartburg has not only heard of one, but is experiencing one. And it would be rather awkward to blame the administration for this omission.



Becker

All those plans. Invitations sent to other schools. Rehearsals for the talent show. Committees making decisions. Dorms choosing candidates for king and queen. Meetings to draw sketches for snow sculptures. Some even planning to stay on campus for the weekend.

All ruined!

But wait. Visitors may still attend the festivities and enjoy Wartburg hospitality. The show must go on — and so must the talent. The committee never did come to any decisions. As long as popularity reigns, so will a king and queen. Sketches were never completed anyway. And there's time to pack the suitcase.

Let's look at this disaster constructively. Surely there is some meaning behind it all. There must be something that can be learned from this catastrophe. There's got to be a lesson somewhere.

Okay, I give up. You think of one.

Just a minute. Not so fast. It's all been said before, but it applies now, too. How could we have been so blind? In humility let us turn to the masters, to those wiser than we, for help.

Perhaps there was too much pre-planning. Everyone counted on a factor that might not be available — snow. (Maybe someone forgot to contact the One responsible.) The date was set too far in advance. Remember: "Don't count your snowflakes before they fall."

Is it really all so terrible? The people are here. The plans are made. A weekend should not be spoiled by depressing thoughts. Grumbling only makes things worse and it doesn't become college students. "Don't make a mountain out of no drifts."

Snow Weekend last year was a great success. Everything went well, and it was decided to make it an annual affair. Wonderful! But you can't always "have your snow and eat it, too." (Besides, it's not good for you.)

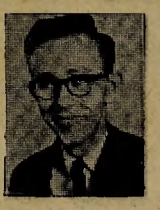
SBP Asks For Better Communication

By Nelson Meyer
Student Body President

"What is going on around here?" "I don't know." "Does anyone?" — Good question! Does anyone know what is going on around here? I doubt it, because in order to know what is going on, you have to have communication.

Communication is a nice sounding word to throw around, and very impressive, but so what! It has to mean something before it is of any value.

We talked a lot about communication last year, but where is it now? About all that is evident is a lack of it.



Meyer

Secretaries of all organizations are asked to place minutes of their meetings in a basket on my desk. With one or two exceptions they are always late and this not only applies to organizations, but to Senate committees as well.

I received one set of minutes this last week dated last October — if that is communication, it is communication with the dead! Evidence of lack of communication is also found on the part of the administration.

But there are two directions to the communicative process — students must try to find things out. How many students read the Trumpet? I thought quite a few did until freshmen elections.

More than one person claimed he did not know anything about elections, offices open, nomination period or campaign restrictions. Yet, these were clearly printed in the Trumpet before nominations closed.

We had to resort to the convo bulletin to get enough candidates to have a race.

How many students come to the Student Body meetings? I have attempted to keep them very short and informative, but it would be a shock if over 10 per cent of the Student Body were present.

Senate meetings are open to anyone who wants to come. They are regularly held the first, second and fourth Mondays of every month at 6:30 p.m. in the Faculty Lounge. Only two students have used this opportunity to inform themselves yet this year.

No one else seems interested enough to come, not even candidates for office.

Communication is failing on upper levels, and it should not be, but this does not excuse the students from trying to find out what is happening, and this is not really very difficult.

The Trumpet comes to your post office box — stop wishing for mail and read what you get. Nearly everyone picks up the convo bulletin — stay for an extra 10 or 15 minutes for the Student Body meeting. Senate meetings are open to everyone, and if you do come, you are welcome.

If you wish to speak, raise your hand, and you will be recognized. Try coming sometime — you may be surprised. Try finding out what is going on — you may find that something is!

Ricci Is Highly Rated In Fifth Artist Series

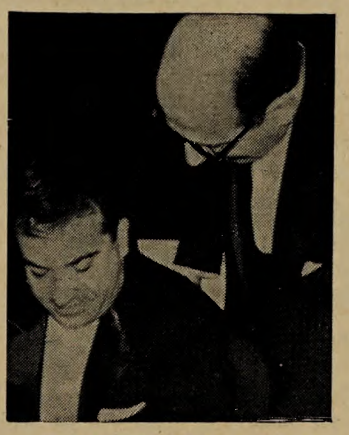
By August Knoll

Virtuoso violinist Ruggiero Ricci's performance here last Monday evening marked another high point in this year's Artist Series. This man, though small in stature, is a true giant in the music field.

The Paul Hindemith sonata was undoubtedly performed in homage to this great German composer who passed away only this past December. The work is obviously early Hindemith.

This work also contains a noticeable humor which is seldom found in the mature Hindemith; it does, however, point to the blooming of the creative genius found in his later works.

Beethoven wrote most superbly for the stringed instrument. The sonata performed was in the classic style and was composed at the time when Beethoven first realized he was going deaf.



PIANIST LEON POMMER looks over the shoulder of Violinist Ruggiero Ricci during intermission, Monday.

The adagio movement is a thrilling piece of music and seemed to be the high point of this work.

J. S. Bach's Chaconne from the D minor Suite for unaccompanied violin is structurally ingenuous with its interweaving of variations on a common ground theme.

Ricci's interpretation contained many subtleties in phrasing as well as sections that were forcibly ugly to the point of being thrilling.

The second half of the program contained a polish that made up for any roughness found in the first numbers.

Gabriel Faure's Sonata is a work of romantic beauty. It is characterized by flowing melodic lines and a rich, lush sound from both violin and piano. It may have been the musical high point of the evening.

Paganini was the virtuoso violinist of the early 19th century. His technical abilities invested upon him such description as superhuman and supernatural.

His works for violin, while not being the greatest in music, are actually technical studies of extreme difficulty for this instrument. It has often been stated that it is in this type of work that Ricci reaches his heights.

It might be pointed out as a sidelight that the violin used by Paganini and Ricci's present instrument were made by the same family, Guarnerius of Italy.

Encores were Bartok's Roumanian Dances and a Sicilienne and Rigaudon by Kreisler. Special mention might be made of the accompanist, Leon Pommer, who did a fine job on much difficult music.

One unfortunate point was that a disturbingly small portion of the audience was from Wartburg. It seems distressing that a large percentage of the Wartburg student body is unconcerned with receiving a true "liberal arts" education.

It is the purpose of the Artist Series and the convocation series to provide the student with a more well-rounded knowledge concerning subjects that one does not have time to pick up in classroom work.

Team Effort Waylays Simpson 17-9

By Chuck Ditto

Rallying from a 6-0 deficit, Wartburg won its second consecutive wrestling dual meet by defeating Simpson 17-9.

Simpson got off to a fine start behind 123 lb. Alan Curtis and 130 lb. Dennis Price, who gained decisions over Dale Wehling and Bob Bye. Wehling matched Curtis point for point, only to run out of time on his turn, dropping the match 11-9.

Dave Hutson put Wartburg on the scoreboard with a 5-0 decision over Wayne Kong at 137 lbs. Hutson had Kong in trouble right from the start but couldn't quite roll him over for the pin.

Returning to action after missing the Lutheran Tourney, Mike Tower followed suit with an identical 5-0 decision over 147 lb. Dave Guthrie. Tower's decision coupled with Hutson's knotted the score at 6 apiece.

Bernie Masker sent Wartburg sailing into the lead to stay with a pin over Charles Lazear. Masker pinned the Redman in 2:59 with a brutal figure-four around the head. Masker's muscle tactics brought the crowd to life and the team as well.

Although Masker gave the grapplers from Wartburg a 11-6 lead it was not to be decided till the final match was over.

Freshman Larry Snitker brought the Knights still closer to that much wanted victory with a 3-1 decision at the 167 lb. division. Mike Burke kept Simpson within reach of a tie by gaining a 5-2 decision over Terry Tellefson.

Duane Huth was the man of the hour as far as a clear cut victory for Wartburg. Pitted against Bob Baier, who outweighed Huth by 35 lbs., Huth produced the guaranteed advantage. At the final buzzer, it was Huth 4 and Baier 0.

MIKE TOWER KEEPS a tight hold on his 147 lb. opponent, Dave Guthrie. Tower's 5-0 decision over Guthrie netted the Knights three points for the match to tie with Simpson. The Knights then went on to win, 17-9.

This victory gave the Jomen a 2-4-2 season record.

Wartburg might have received a lift for this victory over Simpson during the stiff competition at the Lutheran Tourney held at Decorah last Saturday.

Seventh place was the final spot for the Knights in a field of nine. Concordia of Moorhead, Minn., became tourney team champions with a total of 69 points and three individual champions.

Four defending champions repeated their titles in the tourney. They were John Lambert (123), from Augustana of Rock Island, Ill., Harland Leopold of Concordia (147), and Len Erdahl (157) and Dave Schreiber (177), both of Luther.

Other individual champions were Don Robertson, Augustana of Sioux Falls, S.D., at 130, Bob Garman of Augustana, Rock Island, at 137, Raleigh Lillimore from Concordia at 167, and Ron Offutt at Hwt. from Concordia.

Wartburg's only strong finisher was Masker, who battled Leopold of Concordia right to the buzzer, losing a 5-3 decision in the championship round.

Duane Huth opened at the tourney with a victory decision over former conference champion and Wartburg grappler Len Ackermann. Huth finished the tourney with a fourth place. Terry Tellefson also finished fourth for Wartburg.

Vollmer-Ketha Both Post Victories

By Dan Knobloch

Only four games were played in intramural basketball this week. Thursday night was Vollmer over Gamma and Ketha over Cotta in the first two games.

Gamma managed to stay with Vollmer in the first half and trailed by three points, 21-18. In the second half Vollmer pulled out of reach, finally winning 54-40.

Bill Westphal was again high for Gamma with 22. Vollmer had a balanced attack. Orv McElfresh was the leading scorer with 15 followed by Arlyn Ristau with 12, Gerald Baldner with 11, Jim Folkerts with 10 and Joel Niemann with 6.

Ketha jumped to a 10-0 lead over Cotta and coasted to an easy 77-41 victory. The Cottamen successfully stymied Ketha's fast break, but the Ketha defense was too much for Cotta.

Switching to a 2-3 zone in the second half, Ketha held Cotta to 13 points. Ketha's business major, Mik Will, led all scorers with 25. Leon Carley had 20. Jim Fliehler was high for Cotta with 21.

In the second game Clinton I beat North Hall I, and Alpha took Off-campus. The Alpha-Off-campus game was nip and tuck all the way. Off-campus led with a few minutes remaining, but Alpha pulled ahead on four free throws by Ken Steege.

The final score was Alpha 46, Off-campus 40. The two Fredrick brothers, Steve and Dave, were high for Off-campus with 14 and 10 points respectively. Duane Kamrath scored 16 for Alpha and Ken Steege followed with 14.

Clinton I beat North Hall I 52-43. The game was fairly close all the way through, but Clinton I pulled ahead in the last quarter. Dick Hermann and Harold Blobaum both had 16 for Clinton I, and Larry Croghan led the North Hallers with 18.

Easy Victory For Knights Over Spartans Of Dubuque

By Harry Jebson

In a dull, colorless game Tuesday night in Waverly, Wartburg's hard-court men defeated the Dubuque Spartans, 76-61. Victory came in an easy game, as the Knights were never headed after a 10-10 tie with 13 minutes left in the first half.

Lowell Syverson headed the Knights with 15 points, closely followed by Garry Medlang and Al Buenning with 12 a piece.

The game opened slowly, and the pace was never stepped up considerably. The Spartans used a deliberate, ball control offense throughout the game, even when 20 points behind in the second half.

Dubuque opened a quick 6 to 0 lead but this disintegrated as the Knights' attack unwound. By half time the Knights led by a 37-28 margin.

As the second half opened "Wrong-way Syverson" tried to contribute two points to the Spartan cause, but Knight chivalry was not that gracious for he was halted by the loud voice of Coach Fred Jaspers.

Knights opened up a big lead in the second half, sometimes as much as 20 points, and Coach Jaspers got a chance to rest his first team and use his splinter squads, who before this game have been mere decorations on the sidelines.

In action last Saturday, the Knights took an early lead on Iowa Wesleyan, then held on for an 87-80 victory. The Knights led by a 40-28 score at one time in the first half and clung to a 44-37 half time lead.

Second half action was much heavier as the Wesleyans took a 62-60 lead, but the Knights were equal to the challenge and held on for the 87-80 verdict.

Cliff Cameron led the Knights with 23 points, as Al Buenning took bridesmaid honors with 19 tallies.

Knights Lay Hope For Upper Iowa Tilt

By Mike Becker

After struggling through two halves of lackluster basketball against the Dubuque do-nothings, the Knights will entertain conference co-champion Upper Iowa tonight. In what was probably the longest and the dullest game of the season, the Knights put it on the Dubuquers, outclassing them in every category except number of players from Illinois.

Becker

Dubuque, even though enjoying a decided weight advantage, still could not function properly. At one time it had three back men in who must have totaled close to 700 pounds and that's a lot of pounds to be moving around a basketball floor. They did prove very effective, however, in blocking the fans' view of the game.

Rumor has it that Eli Mason, the sensational Upper Iowa forward, has flunked out of school and is now attending a junior college in Iowa. He is well-remembered by the Wartburgers who traveled up to Upper Iowa and saw him set a record for most shots blocked and most field goals blocked. He could really leap, and although he wasn't a starter, he should be greatly missed by the Peacocks.

The game tonight will in a way be a grudge game for the Knights. We haven't been able to beat the Peacocks in anything this year. We were demolished in our Homecoming football battle with Upper Iowa and didn't have the firepower to stay with them in the first basketball meeting of the two schools this year.

After tonight's battle with Upper Iowa, there will be only one remaining home game. On Monday night we will entertain Cornell. Then we travel to Simpson and Buena Vista for the weekend. We close the season at Luther in lion's den on Feb. 28.

The wrestlers also close out their season during this same weekend, in the conference wrestling tourney. Then it's time for the spring sports to take over.

Erie Islanders To Sing Sat.

The Erie Islanders, a group of folk singers from Ohio, will perform next Saturday in the Chapel-auditorium at 8 p.m.

Featured on Courier Records, the Islanders' latest release is "Come All Ye Fair And Tender Young Maidens." Besides singing, members of the quartet all play stringed instruments. Included are a string bass, banjo and two guitars.

The group has entertained at such places as the Sacred Mushroom; Kent State University, Kent, Ohio; The Catabow Beach Club; and Wittenberg College, Springfield, Ohio. They will come to Wartburg from Waldorf College, Forest City, where they will appear Friday night.

Wartburg students will recognize junior Dave Zimmerman as a member of the group. Dave came to Wartburg from Waldorf, where he was student body president. He is a pre-theological student majoring in social work. The son of the Rev. and Mrs. E. E. Zimmerman, Dave is from Freemont, Ohio.

Another member of the folk singers is Dave Pasch. A senior at Bowling Green State University, Bowling Green, Ohio, Dave is an elementary education major. He is married and is also from Freemont.

Steve Younkers, third member of the group, is from Gibsonburg, Ohio. He is a freshman at Ohio State University, Columbus, where he is majoring in political science.

Final member of the quartet is Bob Brown. Brown was a music major at Capital University, Columbus, Ohio, until he became associated with Courier Records. He is now Executive President of the organization. He is also from Freemont.

Tickets for the appearance will be sold in lunch lines soon. They will also be available at the door the night of the performance.

Segovia Will Present Varied Guitar Music

In his fifty-seventh season as a concert guitarist, Andres Segovia will present a program of classical and modern music in the Chapel-auditorium on Feb. 25.

Making his debut in Granada, Spain, at the age of 14, Segovia had completely self-taught himself to play the guitar. He began his musical career with the study of the violin, the piano and the cello but was dissatisfied with their sounds. At that time he turned to the guitar.

He first appeared in America in 1928 and is currently making his thirty-sixth tour of this country.

The guitarist recently returned from his annual European tour. Each year he plays nearly one hundred concerts in South America and Europe in addition to his regular tours in America.

In his program, Segovia will include music by such classic composers as Bach. He will also play several of the many works dedicated to him by modern composers De Falls, Villa Lobos and Roussel, as well as a group of Spanish compositions.

Segovia has awakened an interest in the classical guitar and has also transcribed for his instrument many selections originally composed for the lute and the other instruments of the same family as the guitar.

The guitar has been the instrument of Spain, particularly of Andalusia, Segovia's native province, since the 12th century when the conquering Moors brought it from Africa and the Middle West.

Prayer Day Is Tomorrow

Universal Day of Prayer for Students, sponsored by Lutheran Student Association, will be held tomorrow. Three services will mark the occasion, according to Oscar Lenning, LSA president.

All three services will be held in Danforth Chapel. Freshman Dave Steege will be speaker for the first service at 12:45 p.m. Junior Owen Jordahl is speaker for the 2 p.m. service. John Schmeltzer, freshman, will speak at the 4 p.m. service.

One Act Play To Be Given

Wartburg Players will present a one act play, the "Pot Boiler," by Alice Gerstenberg before the Charles City Women's Club on Tuesday.

Directed by senior Al Sandau as a speech honors project, the play is a satire on playwriters and melodramatic plays. Sud, the writer, is directing a play that he is still in the process of writing.

In three weeks the play is to go on, but the third act has not been written yet. A dramatic ending occurs when all the actors have guns trained on each other and Sud does not know who is to shoot. The actors give up and walk off stage with a flourish.

The heroine is played by sophomore Norma Gray, hero by freshman Jim Ludwig, Sud the playwright by Al Sandau, the novice by senior Nancy Keel, father of the heroine by junior Bob Bone, the villian by junior Bernd Samland and the woman by junior Kathryn Becker.

Debaters Go To Eau Claire

This weekend, Wartburg debaters are participating in the 20th Annual Eau Claire Speech Meet at Wisconsin State College, Eau Claire, Wis. For the first time this year all of the students will debate both affirmative and negative.

Students attending are Jan deNeui, freshman and Lois Reyelts, Roger Prehn and Walt Buenning, sophomores.

There are five rounds of debate, and preliminary and final rounds in the other speaking events.

Four North Hall Ambassadors Push March Of Dimes Drive

Four men from North Hall will walk from Sioux City to Dubuque in a drive to earn money for the March of Dimes this week. Three others will accompany them as assistants.

Senior Ron Burrichter, chairman of the project and sophomores Conrad Muehling, Jack Wendt and Mike Zolnosky will each walk for an hour at a time in the hike. Freshmen Bill Karrow, Dale Doepke and Ken Barr will help on the drive.

Equipment for the drive has been furnished by local contributors. A camper and a new pickup have been furnished along with a PA system to broadcast along the way.

Max Olson, chairman of the Iowa March of Dimes will take the men to Sioux City at 3 p.m. Wednesday. By 9 p.m. they hope to start their journey, which will include stops in Waverly, Cedar Falls and Waterloo as well as many places along the way.

One person will walk for an hour, at which time he will be relieved by another. Advertising and broadcasting will take place along the whole trip and students will take turns driving.

The trip is expected to be completed by Sunday. Hikers hope to get $10 per mile and the completed journey will cover some 300 miles. They will probably come through Waverly Saturday.
